WEATHER IT TOGETHER: ANNAPOLIS

An award winning planning initiative of the City of Annapolis

The City of Annapolis Weather It Together team members have been sharing information, gathering community feedback, and helping the City plan and protect our National Historic Landmark District from rising tides, storm surge and sea level rise. Recognized in 2016 by the Maryland Historical Trust for “Excellence in Community Engagement” and by the National League of Cities as one of ten cities demonstrating “Leadership in Community Resiliency,” the City of Annapolis is proud to host the second annual Keeping History Above Water conference and a free public lecture on Sunday, October 29. Register today at <http://historyabovewater.org/public-lecture/>
