

A Chesapeake Bay Community Supported Fishery

Bringing fresh, responsibly harvested seafood directly to you.

A Community Supported Fishery

The Old Line Fish Company's (OLFC) Community Supported Fishery is being piloted as a means to provide consumers with responsibly harvested fish and shellfish sourced directly from local watermen and aquaculturists in the Chesapeake Bay and Atlantic Coast region.

The OLFC was formed by the Oyster Recovery Partnership to emphasize the importance of Maryland's iconic seafood industry and underscore the vital role that consumers can play in preserving the Chesapeake Bay and its heritage.

Bi-weekly shares of fresh, locally harvested seafood will be offered to our members on a seasonal basis.
